Buckle up! No excuses...

The simple fact is seatbelts save many lives. Coupled with good driving behaviour, extra safety features and safer roads, you are much more likely to survive if involved in a road crash.

A driver will be penalised with a fine and demerit points if they are caught driving without a seat belt. The driver will also be penalised if he carries passengers below 16 years of age who are not wearing seat belts or approved child restraints. A passenger may also be penalised for not wearing a seat belt but the penalty for a passenger is only a fine and not demerit points.

Myth busters

“If it’s a short trip, I don’t need to wear a seatbelt”

It doesn't matter if you're only travelling around the corner, all drivers and passengers must wear a seatbelt or an approved child restraint. Most road crashes happen close to home. Even at low speeds, not wearing a seatbelt can result in serious injury or death.

“Truckies don’t need to wear seatbelts so they’ll be ‘thrown clear’ from the truck in the event of a crash”

Seatbelts are mandatory in all heavy vehicles and design regulations have been improved to make seatbelts more comfortable in trucks.

Heavy vehicle drivers involved in a crash are 6 times more likely to die if not wearing a seatbelt.

Wear it or Wear the Fine.**

Jundah State School News

Semester 2 started with the introduction of the new units. The harp workshop on Wednesday was an amazing experience and kept the students involved for a two hour session. The instrument makes a beautiful sound and the students enjoyed listening to and playing the harp. Christine showed the students some different types of harps and how they can be used, especially for therapy.

Friday visits to Stonehenge continue. We visited Stonehenge State School and started the technology session with the students exploring the language of coding and completing beginning activities using the basics of coding. Students worked in pairs to use their body to follow a code.

Mrs Volker attended the meetings in Muttaborra and Jericho with the Outback Advantage principals and the C2C team from Brisbane. The work on the small schools curriculum continues with changes being made to the Maths and HASS after our nine schools have trialled the units and using the feedback that has been given. The English units continue to be reviewed. An overview of the units for all the subjects has been developed and we will continue to work with the team on this to ensure all aspects of the Australian Curriculum are covered.

Ideas were shared with the other principals and observations of different schools and how they are able to set up their schools and classrooms were made. Moderation of the units was also discussed.

We welcomed a new student and his family to our school. We are also saying farewell to a family and wish them all well.

Yours in education

Chris Volker

Davis Family Revisits Haddon Corner

In July 1985 the Davis family crossed the Simpson Desert and to commemorate this journey they set up the Visitors Book at Haddon Corner.

Since then they have supplied visitor's books to be signed and read by travellers to the corner.

Completed visitors books from Haddon Corner are displayed at the Windorah Visitor Information Centre.

This year the family revisited Haddon Corner. On the way there, they called into the Windorah Visitor Information Centre to have a look at the old visitor books and enjoy the museum.

The Davis family intend to keep the tradition of supplying the visitor books at Haddon Corner for the enjoyment of travellers to the area.

The Davis family en route to Haddon Corner with the original visitors book left there by their family in 1985.

A First For Windorah...

Keith and Lesley Wein from Melbourne created a bit of history when they decided to drive their electric car from Melbourne to Birdsville.

The car a Telsa Model S and seen below with Keith and Lesley, spent the night charging on 3 phase power in Windorah before heading on to Birdsville.

The vehicle can be charged with a normal 240v household power point, but it takes about 2 days to fully charge. With the 3 phase connection it only took overnight, allowing them to continue their journey more quickly.

Keith explained the vehicle has a suspension system that could lift the car to allow it to handle the gravel roads.

Definitely a first for Windorah.
